Jeff Hazen was elected to the Clatsop County Board of Commissioners in November 2006 to a term ending December 2010.

Commissioner Hazen represents District 1, which encompasses Warrenton and Hammond and the port of Astoria west of Fifth Street, northwest of Denver Avenue and north of platted West Niagara Avenue.

Jeff Hazen lives in Hammond with his wife, Ronda. Jeff is also a stepfather and grandfather to three grandchildren. He was born in Roseburg and grew up in Reedsport. He has lived in Clatsop County since 1993.

He is the assistant manager of Costco Wholesale in Warrenton and an instructor for the Costco University. He has worked in retail and retail management since 1979.

Before being elected to the Board of Commissioners, he was elected to and served on the Warrenton City from 1999 through 2004. Three of those years, he served as the mayor of Warrenton.

He is a Lunch Buddy mentor for a third-grade boy at Warrenton Grade School. He serves on the Regional Workforce Investment Board and Oregon Workforce Alliance.
