

Profile

JOSHUA MARQUIS was appointed District Attorney by the Governor in 1994, elected later that year and then re-elected in 1998, 2002 and 2006. His current term ends in 2011. Previously, he was the chief deputy district attorney for Deschutes and Lincoln counties and before that a deputy DA for Lincoln and Lane counties. He earned his law degree and bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon.

Marquis serves on the Executive Committee of the National District Attorneys Association where he sits on the Board of Directors and served three years as Vice President. He is also a former president of the Oregon District Attorneys Association and speaks and teaches for both local police agencies and to prosecutors around the country. A 15-year member of the Astoria Rotary Club, where he is a Paul Harris Fellow, Marquis also has played a small part in the local play "Shanghaied in Astoria" every summer for the last 16 years.

The District Attorney is elected by the county voters to a four-year term and serves as the prosecuting attorney for the State of Oregon in Clatsop County. The District Attorney is a state employee. The deputies and support staff in the office are county employees. The District Attorney is elected by the county voters to a four-year term and serves as the prosecuting attorney for the State of Oregon in Clatsop County. The District Attorney is a state employee. The deputies and support staff in the office are county employees.