

Natural Hazards Mitigation Plan

Clatsop County developed this multijurisdictional natural hazards mitigation plan (MJNHMP) in an effort to prepare for the long-term effects resulting from natural hazards. It is impossible to predict exactly when these hazards will occur, or the extent to which they will affect the community; however, with careful planning and collaboration among public safety agencies, private sector organizations and citizens within the community, it is possible to create a resilient community that will benefit from long-term recovery planning efforts.
